

NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

(Regulation S-P, 17 C.F. R. Part 248, Effective 7-1-2001)

Rembert Group, Inc.
t/a Rembert Pendleton Jackson

Rembert Pendleton Jackson has always been committed to maintaining customer confidentiality. Title V of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act of 1999 and the Securities and Exchange Commission's Regulation S-P require that we provide our customers with a notice explaining how we treat nonpublic personal information. We appreciate this opportunity to clarify our privacy practices for you as a result of this law.

- Categories of Information We Collect: As part of our business, we obtain certain “nonpublic personal information” about you, which for ease of reading we will refer to as “Customer Information” in this notice. We collect Customer Information about you from the following sources: information we receive from you on applications or other forms; information about your transactions with others or us; and information we receive from a consumer-reporting agency.
- Confidentiality and Security of Customer Information: We restrict access to Customer Information to authorized individuals who need to know this information to provide services to you. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards that comply with federal standards to protect your Customer Information.
- Confidentiality of Information We Disclose: We do not disclose Customer Information about you to anyone, except as permitted or required by law. [We may, for example, share information with nonaffiliated third parties at your direction or in order to service your account or process transactions for you.]
- Former Customers: If you are no longer a customer of Rembert Pendleton Jackson, we will continue to treat all nonpublic personal information about you as set forth in this Notice.

We are committed to serve your interest only and consider your confidence as a crucial part of fulfilling our fiduciary duty. You do not need to call, or do anything as a result of this notice. It is meant to inform you of how we safeguard your Customer Information. You may wish to file this notice with your important papers. We value our relationship with you and strive to earn your continued trust.
